The U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (“EEOC”) announced that it will delay the collection of 2019 EEO-1 Component 1 data and the 2020 EEO-3 and EEO-5 data due to COVID-19. The EEOC stated that it recognizes the challenges that EEO filers are currently facing, and that delaying the collection will assist with the filers’ ability to provide accurate and timely data.

The EEOC expects that the collections may begin in March 2021, but will notify filers of the exact date when it is determined.
